

"Perfect funny moments."

Penn – Penn & Teller

"Riotous... These stunt pilots of hilarity will twist your neurons into Slinkys."

George Meyer – Head Writer "Simpsons"

"Silly clothes, youthful enthusiasm and the kind of comedic bravery known only to the young. Listen to this and be sixty minutes closer to tomorrow."

Eddie Gorodetsky - Writer "Two and a Half Men"

"Funniest thing to come out of the Midwest since cheese curds."

Will Durst – Comedian

"Pure comic genius, gut-busting sketch performance at its weirdest best."

Sandra Tsing Loh - Radio Show Host & Writer

"When I saw these guys, I gave up my comedy career and focused on the guitar."

Joe Satriani - Guitar Player

"Randee of the Redwoods is one of the all-time great comic characters!"

Robert Wuhl – Actor "Arless"

"The Ducks fill that rarified niche in the Pantheon of American Humor - boffo surrealism."

Bill Griffith – Cartoonist "Zippy the Pinhead"

"The greatest piece of filmmaking since 'Potemkin.' And much funnier."

Joel Schumacher – Director "Batman Forever"

"Very funny...in a very funny sort of way."

Bill Frenzer – Comedian/Songwriter ("Dead Puppies")

"Individually hysterical, collectively unstoppable."

Greg Proops – Comedian – "Whose Line is it Anyway?"

"Duck's Breath Mystery Theatre has redefined what it means to be funny, what it means to be entertained, what it means to be liked."

David Felton – Writer/Producer MTV

'Duck's Breath Mystery Theater is unincorporated terrain - no telling what might turn up there.'

Mary K. Brown - Artist

"Rarity of rarities, a sketch group that's funny."

Dana Gould - Writer "Simpsons"

"Funny fluffy fellows, who brightened our airwaves, as they will your CD player."

Susan Stamberg – Host "All Things Considered"

"I ORDERED SOME OF THEIR STUFF A LONG TIME AGO."

George Carlin – Comedian

"Even after thirty years, all the pistons are still firing. They deliver funny utilizing everyday-items –found around the –house, and a suitcase full of ill fitting suits."

Joel Hodgson - Creator "Mystery Science Theater 3000"

"There is not a major comedic talent working today that does not owe a debt to the pioneering insanity of Duck's Breath. They played the role in America that the Goon Show did in England; as a result, you'll find bits of them everywhere -- but only in their own work will you find it all."

Caleb Carr – Author "The Alienist"

"Next to The Firesign Theatre, Duck's Breath is my favorite comedy group!"

David Ossman - The Firesign Theatre

"Watching these routines are like having a reunion with old friends--from the sanitarium. Enjoy it before the men with the nets catch up with us all! Watching the Ducks' Breathers reminds you how much of their schtick have become the way people express themselves these days."

Scott Simon – Host "Weekend Edition"
